

LoRR January 2005

Greetings unto the College of Arms and the Adrian Empire.

We of the College hope that all faired well during this Holiday season. This LoRR for January 2005 is much smaller than December's. I believe this is due to the effectivness of the current College member's. I wish to thank all who have participated this past month during such a busy time. Currently my desk is clear and to the best of my knowledge we are up to date. I thank those who re-submitted the lost or Blackhole device's by January 7, 2005. As of this releaseing every presentation shall be considered a new presentation. We had very few issue's from December's LoRR. I also wish to thank all those who provided the proper documentation for the concerns that were found.

Education.

On February 1, 2005. The College shall release a document titled "A Guide to Basic Blazoning". With this document we hope to educate current and future heralds. As well as setting a foundation for standardization. We will Announce its release, but please be on the look for it.

Special Note.

*I would like to make a special mention of recognition to Dame Marion Leal Duruis the Queen of Esperance. Over the months with the vacancy of the Embattled Hope office. She has continually put forth great effort on behalf of her Kingdoms heraldry. She has worked with the College closely to ensure proper registration and records, While still showing consideration to the struggles of the College. Her openness to respect heraldic practice's and more importantly the willingness to learn, has set her apart in the eye's of the Fleur de Lis.
Thank you, Dame Marion!*
